PERSONAL ITEMS.

Professor Tyndall, the English scientist, is enjoying himself at the top of Mount Etna.

Gen. J. E Slaughter, who was Gen. Bragg's Chief of Staff, has returned to Mobile to live, after a three years' residence in Mexico.

Mr. Bierstadt, the artist, has sent a hippopotamus hide to be tanned, and the delicate operation will require two years. It takes five men to handle it on slippery occasions.

Some Virginians are talking of erecting a monument to General Winfield Scott, and the Richmond State Journal suggests that it might be proper to convey the remains of the great soldier thither.

David Paul Brown, of Philadelphia, owns probably the finest copy of Shakspeare's Works in the United States. It is a Boydell in ten volumes, nine of letter press, interspersed with upwards of one hundred engravings, and the tenth consisting of one hundred engravings by the greatest artists, and all proof impressions, two feet by three. It cost originally $1,500, and it was purchased by its present holder twenty years ago for $500.

Says Harper's Bazar: "The extent and richness of material from which Mr. Thurlow Weed is preparing his autobiography may be imagined from the fact that, besides the memoranda and data which he has accumulated during a lifetime of journalism and intercourse with the leading minds of this country and Europe, he has upon the shelves of his library forty volumes of manuscript letters, bound in quarto, received from the prominent celebrities of the country in every walk of life.

Ex-Secretary Seward enjoyed vastly his visit to Japan. He was the second foreigner who ever obtained admission to the sacred presence of the Mikado, the Duke of Edinburg, in his recent visit, being the first. He saw the Mikado unveiled, and had even the rare and wonderful opportunity, never before vouchsafed to a barbarian, of surveying the general proportions of the sacred stomach and the highly revered legs and slippers of the tremendously august old Jap, whose subjects regard the United States of America as a nation of ridiculous idolaters, who have not even religion enough to worship our own ancestors, nor the good morals to care whether we are buried at home or abroad.

The number of stores and dwellings in the city of Philadelphia belonging to the Girard estate is 187; the number of farms (in the Fifth Ward) is 15, together yielding a rental of nearly $260,000 per annum. There are also about 13,000 acres of land in Schuylkill and Columbia counties, valuable for coal, farming and timber purposes. The personal property of the Girard estate consists of stocks and loans, having an approximate par value of $518,833 94. The income arising from these sources is expended for the maintaining of the Girard College for orphans, for the repairing of the real estate, and for the salaries of the officers of the estate, which about absorb the whole of it. Besides this, Girard left two separate trust funds—one of $500,000 (executor's valuation) "for the improvement of the eastern front of the city and Delaware Avenue," and another of $10,000 (which has since decreased to a little over $9,000) "to purchase fuel for poor white housekeepers." The income arising from both these funds has been regularly appropriated to the prescribed uses.

WAR MISCELLANY.

The German forces in France will receive a reinforcement of over 150,000 men by the execution of the decree raising the battalions of the Landwhre to a strength of 1,000 men each, by further levies.

A correspondent writing from Versailles says: "This town, with a garrison of 8,000 men, is much quieter at 9 o'clock in the evening than Portsmouth, (England), is at 10. Since I have been here I have not seen one drunken soldier; and even the French citizens own that the Prussian military are vastly preferable to their own soldiers in this respect."

Austria is giving at least one proof of financial economy: The item hitherto included in the budget of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs at Vienna for subsidies to the press has this year been struck out by order of Count Beust. The following are the amounts which have been appropriated for this purpose since 1864: 1864, $268,000; 1865, $189,000; 1866, $141,000; 1867, $127,000; 1868, $35,000; 1869, $82,000, and 1870, $75,000.

The artistic gold pen, in imitation of a quill, which was recently mentioned as having been made by Herr Biesinger, jeweler, of Pforzheim, with a view to Count Bismarck signing the treaty of peace with it, has been presented to the Count, who, in acknowledging it, wrote: "Your beautiful and very artistic present has been delivered to me by Herr Jolly. I feel some difficulty in knowing how to express my thanks for it. At a time when the sword of the German nation has performed such illustrious feats, you render the pen almost too much honor in making it so costly. I can only hope that the use to which you have destined the pen in that service of our country may conduce to its permanent welfare in a fortunate peace, and I can promise you that, with God's help, it shall in my hands subscribe nothing unworthy of German feeling and of the German sword."

The Jumel Case.

[From the Washington Patriot.]

Madame Jumel, known as the widow of Aaron Burr, died in 1865, in New York, leaving property which is to-day worth about two million dollars. This property, since that time, has been in the possession of one Nelson Chase, a New York lawyer, by virtue of the fact he had married an adopted daughter of Madame Jumel's, and that through his wife's children, and by reason of the purchase from a family named Jones (nephews and nieces of Madame Jumel) of their claims upon the estate, he had become the only legitimate heir of the money left by the old lady. But now appears one George W. Bowen, an elderly gentleman of Providence, Rhode Island, ætat 75, a retired merchant, in comfortable circumstances, who brings suit to recover $100,000 worth of land belonging to the Jumel estate, situated in the village of Saratoga, in New York. Bowen's claim to this property is remarkable. He professes to be the illegitimate son of Betsy or Eliza Bowen, who was born in Providence, and who, after his birth in that town, deserted him and went to New York, where she married the Frenchman Stephen Jumel, who died, leaving her his money. The law of 1785 gives the illegitimate child all his mother's property if there be no legitimate issue. Madame Jumel-Burr left no legitimate children. This law has only recently come to Bowen's knowledge, and he now hastens to avail himself of it to lay claim to the estate left by Madame Jumel, and which Mr. Nelson Chase has been comfortably enjoying since the death of his adopted mother-in-law. The case of the $100,000, which is doubtless a test case, is now on trial, and the chief point to be proven is, whether Bowen is really, as he assumes to be, the child of the Betsy Bowen of Providence, who afterwards became Madame Jumel.

The war of the medical schools has broken out again, and it promises to be, as usual, a bitter one. The Government of the United States has a large corps of examining surgeons employed by the Pension Bureau, and the Commissioner of Pensions has decided to strike from the list all surgeons of the homœopathic school. The grounds of his decision are, that all surgeons should belong to one school, and have but one theory of medicine, and that the homœopathic system is not recognized by the Bureau. The homœopaths propose to appeal to the President and to Congress, and may make it an issue at the next Presidential election that ours is not an allopathic form of government, and homœopaths have equal rights with all others to hold office, and to have their professional opinions respected.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JANUARY 14.

German Reinforcements.

BERLIN, Jan. 13.—Reinforcements are now on the way to join the German armies in France, and those in readiness to go number 200,000 men, raising the German force to one million.

News from Versailles.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The Times to day has the following special dispatch:

VERSAILLES, Jan. 12—Evening.—The bombardment was heavy this afternoon. Several fires were seen within the French lines. The Prussians are crowding in front of Clamart and Moudon. The French have erected new batteries.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 10.—The supply of ammunition will last for eighteen days from to-day, and the surrender of Paris is believed to be certain before then.

Gen. Vinoy lately reviewed the troops outside the walls. The soldiers cried, "La Paix." Vinoir replied, "au contraire je choisir vous conduire au feu."

VERSAILLES, Jan. 13.—There was fighting near Le Mans on Wednesday. The Germans captured the suburbs of Champaigne and Chatteau Arche, with seven pieces of artillery. The number of prisoners taken the day before was swelled to 5,000.

VERSAILLES, Jan. 12.—In the east Von Werder is following up the victory, after the battle of Villersexel, by a continued movement on the left flank of the French, meeting with no opposition.

Another French Defeat.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The army under General Chauncy was completely defeated, near Le Mans, by the second German army, commanded by Prince Frederick Charles and the Grand Duke of Mecklenburg. The Germans occupied Le Mans, capturing large quantities of supplies and war materials. The French are being pursued.

Gen. Chauncy, in the battles of the 10th and 11th, had two corps engaged and 60,000 men reserved. A great battle was reported as having taken place yesterday.

French Account.

BORDEAUX, Jan. 13.—A general battle was fought on the 11th under the walls of Le Mans. The Germans attacked the French army of the Loire along the whole line. Gen. Jaurez Ibury, who commanded the right wing of the French, held his position on the right bank of the Sarthe, and Gen. Corsios on the left and center. They fought desperately for six hours. The French maintained their position. French losses unknown, but serious. The Prussian forces engaged are estimated at 18,000; but as Chauncy is said to have an army of 200,000, and the attack was along the line, the account seems absurd.

The Approaching Conference.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The World's cable says: A dispatch from Brussels says, peace negotiations now pending at Versailles are to be discussed at the London Conference.

A Vienna dispatch of the 12th says Austria will initiate peace, and proposals for a conference are welcomed by Hernstoff. The preliminaries are that France shall surrender twenty war ships, one thousand million thalers, and a strip of land four miles broad on the left bank of the Rhine. Prussia is to guarantee two million rations daily to Paris.

From China.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—The British Foreign Office has received telegrams dispatches from the Legation at Pekin, December 31. There have been no further troubles, and advices from the Chinese forts are satisfactory.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The San Domingo Expedition.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 3.—The Cabinet meeting to day was devoted to the discussion of the San Domingo expedition. Ex Senator Wade was present and took part in the discussion.

Allen A. Burham, of Kentucky, was appointed Secretary of the Commission instead of Gen. Sigel resigned.

BOSTON, Jan. 13.—A private Washington dispatch says D. S. G. Hone, of Boston, has been appointed third Commissioner to San Domingo.

Porter Confirmed.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The Senate took up the nomination of Vice Admiral Porter to be Admiral, and confirmed the nomination by a vote of 30 to 10. The nomination of Mr. M. D. Legget, as Commissioner of Patents, was also confirmed.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—The rumor that Stewart, manager of the Sailors' Home, had decamped with $20,000 belonging to the sailors, and a woman, not his wife, proves correct. Nothing is known of the course he took.

Hemenway, the broker, who disappeared last week, is believed to have gone to Mexico, as the date of his disappearance accords with the departure of the Panama steamer. His wife went with him.

The agreement for the last match between Deery and Dion, was signed this evening. Deery is a heavy loser by the last two matches, and will play his heaviest game for reputation and money.

The number of deaths in the city this week were 46, against 56 for the corresponding week last year.

The steamer Wm. Tabor and Senator, opposition and regular line, will to-morrow carry passengers to San Diego for $10, cabin; $5, steerage; freight, $2 per ton.

Rudolphe, Cyrille, Dion, and probably Parker, will soon visit San Francisco to play here.

Stanger Tate, who ran away from here in 1867, after robbing the sugar refinery of a large sum, fled to Manilla, and thence to India, has been arrested in London for forgeries committed there recently, while an officer of the Royal Artillery. He will undoubtedly be transported.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

From Stockton.

STOCKTON, Jan. 14.—It is rumored that the Stockton and Copperopolis Railroad Company had made arrangements to build the Stockton and Visalia railroad, but the rumor is positively pronounced untrue by the latter company.

From Los Angeles.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 14.—The grand jury sitting, presented 16 indictments; 2 for murder, 2 for manslaughter, 4 for grand larceny, and the balance for inferior crimes. Their report regarding the late action of the Vigilance Committee says they concur in the opinion that had the laws been faithfully executed, and bad criminals been punished by the courts in a thorough and rigorous manner, the disgraceful scenes enacted in Los Angeles county would never have taken place; criminals of the deepest dye have, upon flimsy bail, paraded our streets; criminals deserving punishment by death are punished, if at all, by short terms in the State Prison, with a good chance for reprisal in a few months; crimes deserving of long terms in State Prison are punished here by insignificant fines of five dollars; thus long forbearing and law abiding people were exasperated, and unlawfully took the law into their own hands.

UTAH.

CORINNE, Jan. 14.—The Salt Lake News has the following:

Preliminary steps and the requisite amount of stock has been taken to day for the construction of a railroad from this city to Payson, Utah county.

It is said that a clue has been discovered to the whereabouts of Heath, the escaped mail robber.

Secretary Boutwell received the other day from, no matter where, in the West, a curious letter. The writer said he was the father of triplets, and somebody had told him there was a fund set apart, out of which was given a bounty to parents having such a run of luck. He said he had two children besides, and, as his means were not large, he hoped that if there was such a fund that the Secretary would put him in the way of getting the benefit of it. To confirm and establish the truth of the story, photographs of the three born at a birth were attached to the letter. He was informed that, although some governments had made such provision for the unfortunate, it had thus far escaped the attention of our law makers.

Mines and Countermines in Front of Paris.

LONDON, Jan. 13, 3:30 P. M.—A telegram just received from Versailles brings the important news that the mines and counter-mines around Fort Mont Valerien are in such close proximity that a collision is momentarily expected.

Activity in the British Navy.

Extraordinary efforts are being made to place the entire British navy in a seaworthy condition. Work upon all ships, now in course of construction or repair in the dock yards, has been ordered to be pressed to completion by the Admiralty.

LONDON, Jan. 13.—Pixley's circular just issued, expresses the opinion that the continental demand for specie must continue until the close of the present month, after which the overland shipments will satisfy it.

Dispatch from Athens.

ATHENS, Jan. 13.—The Greek Government has given positive assurances to the English envoy that those Marathon assassins yet remaining alive shall receive punishment for their crimes.

WASHINGTON CITY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—In the House, on motion of Armstrong, amended by Hale, the salary of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court was fixed at $8,500, and associate and retired judges at $7,000 each.

Hon. Andrew White, a member of the San Domingo Commission, arrived to-day. He had an interview with the President, who said to Mr. White that he was earnestly anxious to have everything probed to the bottom. He remarked further that he wanted all the evils exposed if they could find any, and special search to be made for those lots on Samana bay said to be marked "Grant, Babcock & Co."

Fire in Chicago.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—The extensive packing house of Armour & Co. was destroyed by fire this morning. Loss, $200,000; insurance, $35,000.

A fire last night totally destroyed the American Cutlery Company's works in this city. The loss is about $60,000. Four hundred persons will be thrown out of employment by these two fires.

From Havana.

HAVANA, Jan. 14.—The steamer Hornet appeared off Punnoochee, two miles from Puerto del Padre, on Sunday. The gunb at Puerto sighted the Hornet and fired several shots. The Hornet immediately went to sea, chased by the gunboat, but on account of her superior speed, she escaped.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 15.—The weather is warm, no wind, and cloudy.

The steamship Sacramento has arrived from Panama. The news from Mexico and Central America is generally anticipated by the telegraph from New York.

The passage of the Tehuantepec railroad concession by the Mexican Congress gives great satisfaction to all classes of the population, native and foreign. It is thought certain that this great enterprise will now be carried through successfully.

Placido Vega's attempt at revolution in the Northwestern States was totally foiled at all points, and he is now without followers or friends, hiding in the mountains of Sinaloa, trying out for an opportunity to escape to the United States.

Bernard Wertheimer, alias George Williers, who has been operating in different parts of the United States in fraudulent drafts, has been brought here from Santa Cruz and booked for forgery.

The forthcoming billiard match between Dion and Deery attracts more attention than any which has yet taken place here, from the fact that the result involves, in all probability the pecuniary ruin of one of the parties.

Col. Jones Jackson, who was Indian interpreter for the United States troops in Florida, was raised from the ranks to a Captaincy in the Mexican war, held many prominent positions in California, being Provost Marshal during the rebellion with his headquarters in this city, died on Thursday at his residence near Santa Clara, from disease of the kidneys. He leaves a family. He was in San Francisco two weeks since, but had been failing for some years.

The Morse Taylor, for Honolulu, connecting with the Australia and New Zealand line, sailed this morning with a small freight and passenger list.

The steamers Senator and Wm. Tabor sailed for San Diego and way ports this morning. Both carried large passenger lists, the low rates consequent upon opposition having greatly increased A. C. Bradman, formerly in the Alta office, formerly proprietor of the Daily Evening Journal, went out last evening to dine with a friend, in usual health. After dinner he complained of being unwell and died in fifteen minutes, from the bursting of a blood vessel. He was unmarried and an old resident of San Francisco.

INTERIOR CALIFORNIA DISPATCHES.

ORoville, Jan. 15.—The body of an old man, named C. E. Campbell, who had been missing from Thompson's Flat since New Year's day, was found to day down a shaft. It is thought that he was murdered and thrown down the shaft, though he is not known to have had money. He had been a resident of the Flat for over fifteen years, and at one time was Postmaster.

Later.—A subsequent examination shows him to have been stabbed to the heart.

NEVADA.

VIRGINIA, Jan. 15.—In the United States District Court, yesterday, Lewis Cook, the defaulting County Treasurer of White Pine, was adjudicated a bankrupt on the petition of one of his creditors.

The Daily Oregonian.

MONDAY MORNING, JANUARY 16 1871.

Sugar Beet Culture.

The successful commencement of the manufacture of sugar in great quantities from beets, in California, is justly dwelt upon by the press of that State as a fact of very great importance. It is not an experiment; it is an accomplished fact. The Alvarado mill is now turning out about four tons of sugar per dry. It is not ascertained yet at precisely what rates this sugar can be produced; but it is believed it can be manufactured at a profit to labor and capital. Duties on foreign sugars have been somewhat reduced lately, but they are still high enough to discriminate in favor of the American product.

Other mills, it is anticipated, will soon be constructed in California, and the manufacture of sugar from beets is expected to become one of the greatest industries in the State. The machinery used in the Alvarado mill is said not to be first class, as it is rather old, and valuable improvements have been made in that kind of machinery since it was constructed. Of course there is yet wanting a certain experimental knowledge which will come after a time and bring with it better results. But though the conditions are not yet so favorable as they are expected to be after the industry is fairly established, yet this first attempt is looked upon as a great and real success, and the culture of beets and the manufacture of sugar will henceforward be a leading employment in California.

In many parts of that State people are turning their attention to the culture of the [illegible] beet, and are intently studying the subject [illegible] new to obtaining the best results. [illegible] different varieties of beets are being [illegible] sugar averages about [illegible] per cent. [illegible] of them yield as high as [illegible] per cent. and some fall below eight. [illegible] latter are usually condemned,—though [illegible] yield of sugar in the beet depends a good [illegible] on the soil and locality where it is grown. [illegible] of black loam is said to be on the [illegible] preferable for raising the beets,—better than either a sandy or clayey soil. The best [illegible] it is said [illegible] not grow [illegible] more than five [illegible] per cent. [illegible] and the tops will be planted in [illegible] not more than seven inches apart, nor [illegible] more than eight inches apart in the row, [illegible] the ground be large. Rich lands will yield thirty to forty tons to the acre.

Here is a subject of the greatest importance to Oregon. Without doubt the culture of the sugar beet may be successful here. The [illegible] an industry to the State [illegible] calculation. If Oregon [illegible] produce her own sugar by this method the amount of money saved to the State would be immense and the development of the industry would be attended with the most profitable results. The [illegible] of any other article [illegible] and if we could [illegible] at home and open by this means a [illegible] the employment of [illegible] the profits would be [illegible] We [illegible] that the State Agricultural Society proposed to give a premium for the [illegible] sugar beets, to be obtained [illegible] This [illegible] but we regret to see that the premium is so small. It will [illegible] to create an interest in the subject and lead to practical results. [illegible] an examination what can be done in this region [illegible] important branch of industry. We hope the Board of Managers of the State Agricultural Society will consider these matters further, and offer premiums for the production of the sugar beet which will be commensurate with the importance of this great industry.

A Fine Picture of the Litigant Organ."

The new-born cradle paper of Jacksonville, the Times, gives its party the programme it proposes to follow [illegible] by telling what it will not do rather than by enunciating a positive policy in the course of its remarks it comments severely and justly on the Herald in the following language:

> When the Democratic party through its convention, State and National, announces the principle in its platform for instance as the famous eighth resolution, whether the cowardice of time-serving Democrats or the clamors of Radical enemies will prevent the Party from advocating the principles he party promulgates. We shall not disgrace ourselves or our party by a timid [illegible] advocacy of such principles at the beginning of a canvass, and then, out of pure cowardice become lukewarm on the subject toward its close, so that neither the taunts of political enemies nor the solicitation of political friends can obtain an utterance through these columns. That is not our style. Neither an ex Kansas jayhawker nor a discarded Republican local editor, is connected with the management of the Times as it is not the organ of any Steam Navigation Company or Railroad Company or Banking Company; as it is owned by no class or [illegible] rats for the interest of the [illegible] of Oregon, the party may rely on its best efforts being devoted to the advancement of Democratic success.

The Herald is not named in the above paragraph; but the features of that paper are photographed so plainly that no one can mistake them. Indeed the Times furnishes the Herald a mirror in which it can see itself with startling distinctness. That paper cannot help acknowledging that the Times means it, and it testily resents the Times' accusation by calling them "false" and "cowardly." Now if they are "false" why does the Herald take them to itself? It was not named. A general picture was drawn, and it admits the picture to be true, by admitting that it is like itself. We have read somewhere of an ingenious method of discovering a person who was passing under an assumed name. The detective appointed to follow him called out his real name, when on a sudden, hearing his name called, he turned round suddenly, and so betrayed himself. This is what the Herald has done in the present case.

That paper was "red-hot" in advocacy of repudiation at the beginning of the last canvass, and then, as the Times asserts, "out of pure cowardice became icy cold on the subject toward its close, so that neither the taunts of political enemies nor the solicitation of political friends could obtain an utterance through its columns." When it denies that such is the case it exhibits the most unblushing mendacity. The Albany Democrat hailed it into silence, and we repeatedly called attention to the fact. We do not wonder that the Democratic party is disgusted at the cowardice exhibited by the Herald in the last campaign, or that the Jacksonville paper makes it the subject of such severe comment. It is only an example of the estimation in which the "State organ" is held by its party in Portland, and throughout the State.

Rev. Albert Barnes, well known as a preacher, lecturer and voluminous writer, died at Philadelphia (where he had lived for forty years) on the day before Christmas. The best known of his writings are his Notes on the Gospels, and other scriptural commentaries. "Barnes' Notes" have been in most of the Sunday Schools of the land for many years.

Extracts from the State Democratic Press.

The Albany Democrat is quite indignant at Gov. Hoffman of New York, and his backers. Referring to the game of Tammany to secure Hoffman's nomination by pretending to withdraw him from the race, it says:

> We now find Gov. Hoffman, of New York, modestly declining the nomination for the next Presidency, "all for the sake of harmony," as his friends assert. But does any one suppose that, if the position were thrust upon him by an admiring party, he would turn his back and flee from its alluring presences as did the ancient Joseph from the offered embraces of Potiphar's wife? It is absolutely absurd to presume that such would be the case. The New York politicians who are interested in the nomination of Hoffman, are shrewd and wily in all the multifarious tricks of the political arena, and the nation may depend upon it that the remarkable modesty of Mr. Hoffman is one of the means by which his friends expect to secure his nomination by the National Democratic Convention. This "declining" business is an old subterfuge and has been played too often to the sorrow of the Democratic party.
> It is indeed "an old subterfuge," but what of that? As it has been played successfully by demagogues ever since the time of Julius Cæsar, why can't it succeed once more? Just wait till Hendricks and Pendleton and the Western candidates generally have killed each other off, and then in will step Hoffman, fresh, new and unscathed, and carry off the prize.

Under the caption, "The Revenge of Time," the Oregon City Enterprise utters with evident satisfaction the following ghoulish sentiments:

> There is something sublime in the revenge which time works, especially in the political world. This is now being demonstrated in the career of the leading spirits of the Radical party. Shutting their eyes to the baleful consequences of the teachings of their treasonable dogmas, they succeeded in plunging the nation into civil war, during which they rode on the topmost wave of popular favor and enjoyed for a brief season the reward of their high crimes against the peace of the country and the welfare of its people. But their triumph was short, and the last end of nearly every one of the leaders of that party is enveloped in disaster, ignominy and disgrace. Lincoln was suddenly stricken down by the hand of human violence, and report declares that roving swine herd about his neglected grave. Stanton was as suddenly stricken down by a higher than human hand just as he was about to disgrace the sacred ermine of the Supreme Court by clothing himself in its robes, and Seward, distracted by the upbraidings of a guilty conscience, has become a restless, wandering pariah, and roams about in his senility to foreign shores seeking that peace of mind which he can never find. These are the most prominent of the leaders of that party and this is their fate.

The brutality that would indite such a paragraph as the above would apotheosize Wilkes Booth and clap its hands with exultation on hearing Surratt recite his story of the conspiracy which resulted in the assassination of President Lincoln. Why will not Democrats of manly feelings and true sensibilities rebuke such brutality by withholding their support from organs which utter it?

The new Democratic paper at Jacksonville, the Times, is not at all satisfied with the manner in which the land-grabbing ring headed by Miller, Grover and Kelly, secured their $200,000 out of the school funds, cheated other parts of the State out of the shares they expected to receive, and now propose to confirm the remainder of the lands irrevocably to the school fund, so that the Jackson county road and the Dalles and Sandy road will get nothing. Referring to the bill introduced in Congress by Mr. Smith, the Times says:

> The intention seems to be to prevent the use of any portion of the proceeds of this grant for any other purpose except the improvement of the Wallamet valley. The Legislature appropriated $200,000 of the fund to construct locks and canals around the falls of the Wallamet, but defeated the Jackson Wagon Road bill and the Sandy Wagon Road bill, both of which contemplated appropriations from the same fund. Having got for the Webfoot nation all that can be got from this fund, the unselfish people of the Wallamet, through their Representatives, propose to divert the balance to the school fund. We shall here after furnish a brief history of the birth and death of the Jackson County Road Bill.

The Democracy in both ends of the State who expected to get a share of this plunder may as well admit at once that they were badly out-witted and sold by the central ring.

The Supreme Court of California, a Democratic institution of the Bourbon species, in a recent decision on some point in which a Chinaman was concerned, took occasion to say that "the Federal Government was created by the compact of sovereign States." This utterance is not true in any sense. Webster and others overthrow the doctrine in the forum, and the people of the United States have disputed and beaten it on the field of battle. It is exactly the doctrine of the great rebellion. The authors of the rebellion pretended no other justification for their course than this very doctrine now uttered by the Supreme Court of California.

We have asserted the position that there is no warrant in the Constitution for Congress to enact tariff law for other purposes than for revenue.—Herald.

And we have shown, by literal extracts from the writings of Jefferson, Madison and Jackson, that they hold that there is a warrant in the Constitution for Congress to enact a tariff law for protection of American labor and manufactures, and even for prohibition of foreign products. We guess, therefore, we are ahead.

Advantages of Olympia.

[From the Olympia Tribune.]

A friend, long resident in this town and county, and familiar with the topography of the country in all directions, for many miles, communicates the following facts, with a request that they be published:

Olympia is the only place on Puget Sound where there is a water power right at tide-water. First, there is the Tumwater or Deschutes, which has water sufficient to make a 400 horse power at each one of its falls, four in number, making 1,600 horse power in all, and this at the low stage of water in the summer. Eight months in the year, by using all the water, it would run into the thousands.

Again, the Nisqually, back of the Bald hills, can be turned into the Deschutes, always guaranteeing a constant supply of water. At extreme high water in the Nisqually, it runs over into the Deschutes, and at small expense could be easily manged.

Next, there is Percival's creek. At a small expense it can be made to yield say 80-horse power, and that right on tidewater. By cutting a ditch six feet deep and ten feet wide, for half a mile, Black Lake can be turned into it, which would make a power almost equal to Deschutes; or, by bringing Percival's creek in a flume or race two miles, you can take it along the face of the high land above Marshville, then count two thousand inches, miners' measurement, and 140 feet fall, and ascertain your power to suit yourself. By the same means the Black river swamps will be drained, and not subject to the overflow that now renders them worthless. It would reclaim 20,000 acres of the best grass land in the Territory bordering on Black Lake and its outlet, Black river. The variation in the height of Black Lake is not over three feet; and, if it is kept down to its lowest point, all of its swamp lands will be brought into use. There is one body of one thousand acres that would have been bought for a cranberry marsh if that had been done.

The Birkenhead docks in England have cost fifteen millions of dollars, and have only an area of some forty acres. They were built expressly to keep vessels afloat, and in water partly fresh. Now we can have a dock here at Olympia of 1,800 acres, and all for a nominal expense of only $350,000, as is shown by estimates carefully prepared by one who is fully aware of the cost of material and labor here.

OREGON.

There was an inch of snow last week at Eugene City.

Stephen Coffin, of Portland, has been nominated for Indian Agent at Warm Springs Reservation, in Eastern Oregon.

On Saturday at Salem four saloon keepers were arraigned for selling liquor on Sunday. They all pleaded "guilty" and were fined $10 and costs each.

Maj. Magone is actively engaged at Salem in canvassing among citizens to raise the purse talked of as the Salem prize for the best thoroughbred race at the next State Fair.

The Farmer will begin its third volume shortly, when it will be enlarged, and printed on new and smaller type. It promises to furnish its readers with more than double the present amount of reading matter.

From the Eugene Journal: Last Wednesday E. L. Applegate retired from the Surveyor General's Office, and Wm. H. Odell took charge. The office will remain in the same building it has heretofore occupied.

Up in the John Day country balls and sleighrides were all the go up to New Year's Day, when one of those melting Chinook winds swept across the country, causing the snow to disappear as if by magic, and the sleighing parties didn't come off.

It is stated that Wm. L. Adams of Yamhill county, is engaged in writing a history of Oregon. He will complete it, it is supposed, within fifteen months. Mr. Adams is a strong and vigorous writer, and we doubt not will produce a valuable book.

The West Side says: On Sunday last, as three McMinnville boys were amusing themselves on the river in a skiff, difficulty arose between them. Two threatened to put the third ashore, when he retaliated by presenting a pistol to their heads, and one of them dumped the would be shootist into the river, revolver and all.

From the Statesman: The Corvallis Gazette has become the sole property of Mr. C. H. James, who was in company with S. L. Simpson, Esq., until lately. That gentleman passed through here Friday on his way to Portland, having surrendered his interests in journalism at Corvallis. Sam gives spice to editorial columns, and we shall expect to recognize his "style" in some other quarter before long.

The Scio News gives an account of the discovery of two new coal veins in the vicinity of Scio, recently. The vein, discovered by Messrs. H. Shelton and John Curl, is some five and a half miles above Scio, near the Thomas Fork of the Santiam, and is fully four feet thick. The second is three miles from Scio, on the farm of John Richardson. The editor pronounces the coal similar to that which is obtained at the Coos Bay mines.

Mrs. A. J. Dunlway, of Albany, has taken the position of Oregon editor upon the Pioneer, a paper published in San Francisco, and "devoted to the promotion of woman's rights." The Pioneer is a "woman's rights" paper in the best sense of that term, free from cant, candid in its utterances, and showing evidence of general good sense in its management. It is a weekly paper, published by Mrs. Emily Pitts Stevens, at three dollars per annum.

The City Council of Salem has let the city printing to the Farmer. Whereat the Statesman grows grimly facetious, and among other things gets off the following: The report of the Chief Engineer of the Fire Department was to have been published in the city agricultural organ today, but as it only had two day's notice, it could not be done, but will appear one week from to day, probably. The firemen and their friends, who wish to peruse it, can readily do so by visiting their friends in the country, where it is supposed that journal circulates.

Not long since, says the Dalles Mountaineer, a young gentleman who resides not over a thousand miles from here, was called upon to make some remarks in a Sabbath School, at which quite a large number of young ladies and gentlemen were in attendance. After descanting upon the importance of Sabbath Schools in general, and the necessity of gathering in the little ones to be taught, he naively proposed that "a committee of young ladies and gentlemen be appointed to raise children for the Sabbath School." Nobody laughed in the room, but several cases of strangulation were reported, and one of suffocation. The next morning several dozen buttons, more or less, were found on the floor.

THE TERRITORIES.

The merchants of Boise City have sold more goods during the present season than were ever disposed of in the same time during any previous year.

There has been no fluctuation in the price of dry goods in Boise City, during the winter. Flour has advanced from eight to nine dollars a barrel. Bacon sells at 30, 32 and 33 cents per pound. Butter retails at 75 cents. Eggs 75 cents per dozen. Groceries remain firm.

There is no foundation whatever for the report that a man named Lyons had killed his two partners at the upper crossing of the Payette and then killed himself,—a report that came from the Idaho papers last week. How rumors of this sort get a start, without the slightest grounds, is something strange.

The Humboldt Times says that Wells the noted murderer, who killed four men in Sacramento in 1860, lived in Humboldt county under an assumed name for seven years, and left there soon after Donald McDonald was brought from Idaho on the suspicion that he was the guilty man. Wells is now supposed to be in Arkansas.

The Seattle Intelligencer says that the British ship Hermann and Emma, which was loading with lumber at Port Discovery for South America, was seized on Monday last by the Custom House authorities for an infraction of the revenue laws, it being alleged that she had sold several thousand cigars and some cases of foreign brandies which had not been brought into this district through the Custom House. She was towed into Port Townsend on Monday night by the Lincoln.

From a private letter dated Pike's Peak, Dec. 20, we take the following scraps of news: Weather cold, some snow and more in prospect. This place is nearly deserted. Dear Lodge is dead for this season and this place buried till spring, when I think it will again revive. Only one saloon and one store open. Flour, $12@14; other things in proportion. They are enlarging all the ditches, and we shall have more water next summer than ever. Nearly all the claim owners have gone to the States visiting friends.

The Idaho World of December 27th contains the following: At the District School in this city, a short time ago, the teacher was examining a class in geography. The question was asked, "What is the principal game in California," to which the reply was, "quail, jack rabbits and grizzly bear." The teacher then asked, "What is the principal game in Oregon?" when one of the precocious youths, a bright young lad, whose name we will call, for short, Charlie C., promptly responded, "bean-poker." How's that for high?

BRITISH COLUMBIA.

There has been a heavier rain fall at Victoria last week than has occurred since 1861.

The Howe Sound whaling company have captured ten whales this season, making a very profitable run.

The relations of the Indian, Jim, who was hung for murder at Nanaimo, threaten retaliation by killing several white men.

It is estimated that the government of British Columbia for the year 1870 will cost $313,735 75. This for 10,000 people is pretty good. Salaries are "first-class" over there.

On the 31st of December, 1869, the assets of the Colony of British Columbia were $396,026 11 and the liabilities $1,503,887 07. This would make the debt of the Colony $1,107,860 96.

Messrs. Gough, Wall and Tranfield, a deputation from Nanaimo to solicit subscriptions from Victorians to aid the suffering families of the coal miners, now on strike, publish an appeal for aid in the Victoria papers.

Prof. Hart, of Cornell University, recently returned from an exploring expedition up the valley of the Amazon, has come back fortified with facts which are destined, he says, to completely demolish Agassiz's glacial theory.

SUNDAY MORNING, JANUARY 15, 1871.

CITY.

CALIFORNIA AND OREGON WOOL.—We clip the following paragraphs from the wool circular of Messrs. McLennan, Whelan & Crissey of San Francisco, Jan 3, 1871:

"California—Our wool this spring has redeemed its good character, showing improved blood, tenderness, a staple longer and sounder staple, and combining favorably with the clip of 1868. It has come into more general use with our Eastern manufacturers, and has commanded the favor of those who have used it.

"Oregon—Its condition is not as good as in former years, nor is the staple as uniform. Some years of tender staple and of poor texture. Some years ago Oregon wool was characterized by its freedom from burrs, seed and tags; it was lustrous and well adapted for combing purposes. Since then, through some mistake in breeding, the nature of Oregon wool has completely changed, and now it is not as good as our choice California." This is a California view of the subject. To be sure, however, that the California view does not prevail everywhere, we quote the subjoined New York notice published in the Alta of the 10th: "California wools are in good request, and fall wools are big, as the stock is small. Sales of 62,000 pounds at 23@34c; 27,000 pounds Oregon clothing at 34@36½. The stock of California wool on hand on the 1st inst. is estimated at 1,000,000 pounds pulled; 985,000 pounds spring."

ARRIVAL OF THE CALIFORNIA.—The propeller steamship California, John Hayes, commander, arrived at 5:15 P. M., yesterday, from Puget Sound and Victoria.

INFORMATION WANTED.—A city correspondent wants to know "What has become of the Oregon Immigration Aid Society?" And what has become of the arrangement with the N. P. T. Co. to forward immigrants from San Francisco to Portland, at reduced rates?" In reply to the first query, we can only answer with a sigh, it is [illegible] where the woodbine twineth;" and to the second, that the inquiry is not addressed to the right party—we are not running the N. P. T. Company.

STATE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—A. R. Shipley, Secretary of the State Horticultural Society, issues the following notice: "The January meeting of the Oregon State Horticultural Society will be held in Portland on Tuesday, the 19th. A full meeting is earnestly desired as the premium list for the contemplated exhibition next fall will be arranged at that meeting. Ladies are cordially invited to participate in the proceedings."

FROM THE SANDWICH ISLANDS.—From the Honolulu Advertiser of the 28th ult. we learn that the bark Jane A. Falkinburg was at that date waiting for Portland. She will bring a cargo mostly of sugar. It is said that those representing the sugar interest have decided to ship only their best grades to California and Oregon this coming year. The inferior grades will go to Australia and New Zealand.

KEROSENE.—The recent advance of the prices of all brands of kerosene on this coast created a panic in New York. A January commercial letter from New York notes the shipment of 150,000 cases on vessels to sail this month, and engagements by regular shippers of 25,000 cases for March. The prospect is that we shall soon be burning oil cheaper than before the "corner" [illegible].

FOR THE PENITENTIARY.—The Sheriff of Clatsop county arrived from Astoria Saturday evening, having in custody Rodrigues and Nolan, convicted of a murderous assault upon William Barrington, and sentenced to the penitentiary, for one and a half, each. He took his prisoners down to Salem, by the morning train, yesterday.

COME TO STAY.—Mr. Milner Roberts, engineer of the Northern Pacific Railroad Co., who arrived by the last steamer from San Francisco, brought his family with him, with the intention of residing on this coast some time. Mr. Roberts will have charge of the construction of the Seattle division of the railroad.

TEMPERANCE LECTURE.—Rev. M. Eliot's lecture at Good Templar's Hall was delivered to a crowded audience, Saturday evening. The lecture was preceded by appropriate exercises, and was followed by a "sociable," in which the larger part of the audience participated.

DROWNING FOR A SUICIDE.—So confident are people at Vancouver that the missing man, Ford, committed suicide by drowning, that parties dragged the river bottom on Saturday for the body. Our latest advices, however, the search had proved unsuccessful.

OFFICERS ELECTED.—The Directors of the Portland Dray and Hack Company held a meeting on Saturday evening and elected officers as follows: President, F. F. Camp; Vice President, George [illegible]; Secretary and Treasurer, Ed. F. Alwright.

MR. HUNTER BAR TO BE BUOYED.—We learn that the Shubrick will be up about the middle of next week to commence the work of surveying and buoying the channel of the Columbia river across Hunter bar near St. Helens.

NORTH PACIFIC RAILROAD—FIRST SHIPMENT OF MATERIAL.—The Alta's New York correspondence of Jan. 7th says: "The Horatio Harris sailed to-day with a cargo of rails and spikes for the Northern Pacific Road."

FRATERNAL SYMPATHY.—Large numbers of Odd Fellows and their wives of this city, attended the funeral, yesterday, at East Portland, of Mr. F. A. Clarke's little girl, who died suddenly on Friday.

AN IMPORTANT MEETING.—A meeting of the Portland Library Association is called for February 4th, for the purpose of considering a proposition to amend the Constitution.

FOR WALLULA.—Several financial and scientific men, connected with the Northern Pacific Railroad Company, leave this city this morning for Kalama.

AMUSEMENTS.

ORO FINO THEATER.—The Bates Dramatic Company re-opened Saturday evening in the drama of "The Drunkard, or the Fallen Saved." It is a play in which is portrayed the ruin of a young man of the most noble impulses by the demon appetite for drink; the waste of his patrimony, the destruction of his intellectual and moral nature, and all the various steps in the downward career of a drunkard; the sufferings of a loving, constant wife; her struggles with disgrace, poverty and starvation; the brutality of a dram-seller; the knavery of a village lawyer; the disinterested philanthropy of a temperance advocate, who uses his fortune in efforts to save the fallen; and the final restoration to sobriety and a happy home of the hero of the story, concluding with an affecting home picture and the beautiful song of "Sweet Home." Mr. Bates personates Mr. Middleton, the drunkard, and with an artistic power in the delirium scenes that is deeply thrilling. Mr. Vinson, as the villain of the play, lawyer Cribb, is so really like a consummate scoundrel and knave that one can scarcely restrain a good hearty hiss whenever he appears. The play has its fair proportion of humor, also; but the principal argument is aimed at the occupations, places and practices which lead down to death and "take hold upon hell." We can imagine no more powerful temperance lecture than this drama affords, and if reformers desire to do something practical, they should induce their tipping friends to go and see it. The play will be produced again to-night for the last time, the entertainment to conclude with the rollicking comedy of "Lend Me Five Shillings." Mr. Ellerton in the leading character of Mr. Golightly.

COMBINED CONCERT TROUPE.—The Vieuxtemps Brothers and the "Taylor Family" had another good house at Philharmonic Hall Saturday evening. Carl gave the "storm solo" with fine effect, and performed several pieces that were encored. Mart. Taylor served up another lot of doggerel rhyme that he had made during the day, sung to that "same old tune," and the boys laughed "consumedly" at his local hits. The troupe propose to play again to-night, and every night during the week.

SKATING RINK.—This place of amusement (Armory Hall) was crowded Saturday evening by one of the jolliest assemblages of the season. The people seem to be just finding out that the rink is an excellent place to go to, not only for healthy exercise, but for real amusement. We are pleased to learn that the patronage of the place has so much increased that Mr. Bradford has concluded to remain.

SOIREE.—Mr. Cardwell gave another of his popular soirees at his Dancing Academy, Saturday evening, and his hall was crowded. These parties will be given the public every Saturday evening.

We have talked with all the principal members of the company since their return, and we find them equally well pleased with the Dalles and its people. They represent the trip and their association with the Dalles people as having been exceedingly agreeable.

The Mysterious Disappearance at Vancouver.

The Vancouver Register of Saturday has the following regarding the mysterious disappearance of Ford from that place, last week:

A few days since there came to this city Judge G. W. Ford. We understand that he was once Chief Justice of Wyoming Territory. He is the son of a merchant of Galesburg, Illinois. He is a graduate of Knox College, in Galesburg, and at one time an excellent lawyer, but ruined his mind by strong drink. He stopped at the Pacific Hotel, and claimed to be attorney for the North Pacific Railroad Company, a sort of expedient to travel on. He seemed to have found the end of his career here and it is supposed ended his earthly troubles in death by suicide. On Wednesday morning last, at half past 5 o'clock Mr. Messenger, of the Vancouver House, saw a person answering the description of Judge Ford, passed his door, going toward the Government wharf. It is supposed he went there, and finding the steamer Vancouver in his way returned to Capt. Turnbull's wharf when, encountering the steamer Carrie, he went to the old wharf near the Alta House and plunged into the river. Mr. Jas. Bruce, of the Carrie, about 6 o'clock on Wednesday morning, heard a noise just below the steamer that sounded as if some one had plunged into the river, and afterwards a noise as of one struggling in the water, but owing to the darkness could discern nothing. Mr. David Schuele, of the firm of Sohns & Schuele, identified a hat picked out of the river about a quarter of a mile below town, as one he had sold the missing man. The following letters, found among other papers left in his room at the Pacific House, would indicate that he has for some time meditated self-destruction:

YREKA, Nov. 3, 1870.

TO E. STEELE, ESQ., Sir:—You will find by upon to day that my body is, or will be, in the river. I desire you to telegraph to my brother, M. M. Ford, of Galva, Illinois, the fact and ask him what to do with the body. It is useless to me. I am tired of life. I have had domestic trouble until I am crazed and I have prayed for death, but it has not come. I must obtain myself what I so much crave and desire. Farewell, world. I am not afraid to try another.

G. WALLACE FORD.

TO MY WIFE, FAMILY AND FRIENDS:—I am, and have been for some two months, insane. I do not want to go to the Asylum, so good-bye. God bless you? and may he pardon my many sins, and forgive me for this last act about to be consummated is the prayer of GEORGE.

It will be seen from the above that there is good ground for the general belief, when taken in connection with his mysterious disappearance, that he has found the oblivion he sought, and one more is added to the long list of unfortunates who, weary of breath, have sought respite and nepenthe in the same way.

Don't fail to call and look at one of the MOLINE PLOW Co's LATEST MAKE, and we think you will coincide with a Yamhill Farmer; who, after "looking 'round" and hearing the old story about bogus Moliues, etc., delivered himself thusly: "Well, Myers, I'll just chance a couple of those new plows, and if they are 'bogus,' as that gassy chap above here says, I'll be d—— armed if I won't take bogus in mine every time."

Next month we expect another shipment of those justly celebrated BAIN WAGONS, (Have now only a few left of the last lot,) STILL FURTHER IMPROVED over all heretofore received. It is not presumption on our part to say that they are head and shoulders above any other Farm wagon in market, in point of material, workmanship and finish, having achieved a reputation throughout the West, and wherever introduced on the Pacific, second to no other wagon. Some of the first sold here—three years ago—have never yet had a tire re-set, and our experience has enabled us to order many changes and improvements over the ordinary make of western wagons to meet the wants and requirements of this coast. We shall sell the BAIN WAGON at the lowest possible price for a first class wagon, and WARRANT them such, and in this connection beg to caution purchasers not to confound them with "inferior makes" that others are, or may endeavor to sell on the strength of the established reputation of the Bain manufacture, particularly after having made repeated and persistent efforts (without avail) to purchase wagons of Mr. Bain for this market

The German Desire for Peace.

[From the N. Y. Herald, Dec. 24.]

With the hallowed and touching festival which commemorates the Saviour's nativity at the door we are not surprised to find that while all thoughts here at home, among us, are turned to religious celebrations of the day, family gatherings and pleasant greetings, despatches and mails alike from the Old World incessantly betray the yearning, even of the fierce belligerents there, for an honorable cessation of the miseries of war. The German press and private messages constantly received in our city by wire and post are full of this prevailing sentiment. Even the humorous papers of the German cities lay aside mere jesting for a moment to express this earnest, heartfelt wish. The Berlin Kladderadatsch, for instance, which is the ablest and most widely circulated comic paper in Germany, gives utterance to the weariness of war that is universally felt among its subscribers in a most lugubrious illustration, representing a couple of graves, each [illegible] wooden crucifix. Upon [illegible] the inscription, "Meyer [illegible]," on the other, "Lemaire, [illegible]," the ghosts roughen the plain, which stretches away into the gloom. Over this funeral sketch are written the words "Friede! Friede!" (peace! peace!)

The text and the moral are self-evident. There sleep the gallant antagonists, side by side, in the desolate fields, and thousands upon thousands of their brethren moulder in almost every meadow from the Rhine to the Seine, while thousands more sink daily to rest [illegible]. Yet the resistance of France, far [illegible] unbroken, is only gathering power [illegible], because the quarrel begun [illegible] aggression and between armies [illegible] scheme of conquest—a life and [illegible] between two whole races. As [illegible] of the existing French Government [illegible] says, now that the empire and the [illegible] of France have been cast down, [illegible] are contending against armed [illegible] who are defending their firesides, [illegible] and their nationality, and so [illegible] a sacred cause.

[illegible] struggle which was at first [illegible] gradually assuming that [illegible] of human contention. The higher clergy [illegible] comparatively aloof from [illegible] very many only, are now urging [illegible] to rise en masse and leave all [illegible] plough in the furrow, wagon [illegible] road to the field of the nation's defense. The Bishop of Angers has [illegible] even the young students of the seminaries, Catholic and Protestant alike, with soul-stirring words, and the Archbishop of Cologne has followed this example with equal [illegible], and the Protestant clergy [illegible] a summons that still rings throughout the Germanic land like a trumpet in the night. The Protestant Departments, [illegible] Alsace, for months, are at last alive with ministerial armies whose all Brittany and La Vendée can offer in fiery zeal of a crusade [illegible]. Not to the [illegible] this angry enthusiasm is due; its presence is a universal life necessity more and more wanting for combat. The people are sick of burning passage and bloodshed. What the burning conflagration of Strasbourg, more direct destruction of materials, [illegible] to the German [illegible] the aggregate of all minor [illegible] numbers invested east of France [illegible] that no German is at rest [illegible] frugal land than its great nightmare in front of blood, labor, treasure and numerous men [illegible] sufficient to appal the savage Teutonic [illegible] vastly increased as their burden is [illegible] the enormous numbers of captured Frenchmen whose necessities are added to those of their own sick and wounded soldiers.

Of the lamentation and bereavement [illegible] domestic [illegible] no human [illegible] to name and family ties and [illegible] who shall speak? The rudest [illegible] can never [illegible] cannot talk of [illegible] troops, there is [illegible] loss of the war soon after the [illegible] Jan or it least, after the [illegible]. They came across the [illegible] rush upon [illegible] to vindicate their country's honor against [illegible] dictation. Napoleon has [illegible] unless are gone and the republic that is to say the French people [illegible] rights than [illegible] the war are greater at the [illegible] than they were in the pleasant [illegible] autumn. Paris is not taken the [illegible] Germany is not in the [illegible] the sandstorm remains, which, [illegible] married them at home, is the [illegible]. Where are the merry Christmas greetings, the pride and [illegible] of the returning soldier, the embraces of parents, wife and [illegible], the rewards, the honor and the glory of [illegible] welcome?

A letter from Paris in a recent issue reports the use of balloons from which [illegible] batteries, which [illegible] on their way to the mouth of the Rhone [illegible] to form a part of the defenses of Lyons. The vessel went down suddenly, [illegible] stream at 70 fathoms of water, and about 14 leagues from the land. Happily no lives were lost as the crew were all [illegible] aboard the Robusto steamer, which is towing the balloons, but the material loss is important as the guns and ammunition were also on board.

LAND DEPARTMENT

OREGON & CALIFORNIA RAILROAD COMPANY.

SALEM, OREGON, October 22, 1870

THE FOLLOWING STATEMENT IS MADE FOR information of all concerned.

First—Congress has granted to the Company all alternate sections of the public lands designated by odd numbers within a distance of thirty miles on each side of the railroad, excepting lands to which a pre-emption or homestead claim had attached prior to the withdrawal by Government of the lands determines with the first division of located line from East Portland to Jefferson, at 12 M. February 16, 1870. The second division of located line from Jefferson to a point six miles south of Roseburg, May, 1870, and from the last named point to the California line, 1870.

Second—Persons who have valid pre-emption or homestead claims to any tract of an odd numbered section can purchase the same from the Railroad Company at the Government price of $1 25 per acre in greenbacks, and upon very favorable terms, if they so desire, by filing an abandonment of their claim in the U. S. Land Office, blanks for which will be furnished by the Land Agent of the Company. Such purchase from the Company has these advantages over a purchase from the Government. The party can leave his land if necessary; he can sell the land or mortgage it; he is relieved from the payment of lawyers' or agents' fees, and expenses of witnesses to go to the Land Office to "prove up" his claim; he can get his title perfect in less time, and he can buy on credit at a low rate of interest.

Third—No sales will be made by the Company until the land is listed over to it by the United States Land Commissioner and Secretary of the Interior.

Purchasers are thus assured that the title they obtain is perfect. I. R. MOORES, s22tdllaw Land Agent O. & C. R. R. Co., Salem

DR. GIBBON has the pleasure of announcing that he has returned from visiting the principal Hospitals of Europe, and has resumed practice at his Dispensary, 623 Kearny street, corner of Commercial, San Francisco, where his old patients and those requiring his services may find him.

The Doctor has spared neither time nor money in seeking out new remedies, and has returned with increased facilities for the alleviation of human suffering.

Horrible Diseases.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgence, or from virus absorbed into the system! Look at their pallid, sunken and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends, attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cured forand cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate case without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest society, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, relying upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Weakness, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice, or depraved sexual indulgence, is practised by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing, with unerring certainty, the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combatted by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, a dislike to company, difficulty in approaching strangers a dislike to form new acquaintance, disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never failed effecting a quick and radical cure. Dr. G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN.

Or those who contemplate marriage who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them not delay to obtain immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible and will give a cash guarantee, written instrument, to the abandonment of all effects radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.
